Population Of Canada Is Year By Year Becoming More Of Canadian Born Composition

Remarkable changes are taking place in the population of Canada. As in the last year by year, the becoming more and more of Canadian-born population. This is one of the direct results of the years of depression.

As 1935 begins it finds Canada with a population of 10,855,000 according to the Dominion Bureau of statistics, just 185,000 more than a year ago. This is so despite the barriers which have been steadily maintained against immigration during the last 10 years.

During the increase from 1933 to 1934 of 185,000 is the largest in a single year since 1928.

Prior to 1930 when Canada's doors were open to immigrants from overseas, the number of the United States were born in Canada's immigrated out. Now immigrants stay out and Canadians stay in. The natural increase in population balances the gain formerly made by the excess of immigrants over the number of Canadians leaving Canada.

In the 19 years from 1911 to 1930 the number of people in Canada rose from 7,207,000 to 10,206,000, an average yearly increase of 157,000. In the first year of 1930 a great percentage when the immigration bars were set up the population has increased from 10,206,000 to 10,855,000, an average annual increase of 157,200, approximately the same.

Heavy Water Compound

Toronto Man Not Afraid To Sample New Chemical Composition

G. H. Carter, 48, government employee, of Toronto, has $50 or any part of it to be hit he will drink a thousand cubic feet of "heavy water," a compound of recent discovery and valued at $10,000 a quart—and suffer no temporary or permanent ill effects.

The heavy water compound, discovered a year ago by Dr. Ernest R. Urey, has been used as one of the possible causes of symptoms of old age and cancer. He has been awarded the Nobel prize in chemistry.

Heavy water, composed of two atoms of hydrogen and one of oxygen, of every 5,000 drops of water, one is "heavy." It is far more weighty than river water and believed to have therapeutic uses as yet undiscovered. It is being used now almost entirely by research chemists.

The British Isles

Most Numerous Are Hebrews But Majority Not Inhabited

It is scarcely possible to calculate how many islands comprise the British Isles. The number is a very risky projection, but more than 5,000 have been charted. Most of them are to be found off the western shores of Scotland and Ireland, where the coast has been broken up by the fury of the Atlantic.

Most numerous are the Hebrides, which comprise about 500, although the majority of them are uninhabited. There are more than 50 inhabited islands in the Shetlands and Orkneys, and there are about 150 others on which no one lives.

Studying Cereal Diseases

Dr. Greaney Of Winnipeg To Spend Year In England

Dr. Frank Greaney of the Rust Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, has gone to England for a year at the Rothamsted Experiment Station. Dr. Greaney has been working on the control of root rot disease of cereals and for the past few years has devoted considerable time to a study of the effect of fertilizer in connection with the control of the disease. Rothamsted are the most famous and outstanding fertilizing experiments in the world and their work on soils is known all over the world.

Education Fair Profitable

Showing a profit on the best operation of $13,984, the Edmonton Exhibition Association's summer fair was more successful than any other class "A" fair on the North American continent, Manager Percy W. Abbott, K.C., told the annual meeting of the exhibition shareholders.

Think Drought Punishment

Queen Ceremonies Held In India To Bring Rain

So acute has the drought become in several districts of the Madras Presidency that religious ceremonies are being held in a number of towns to appease the wrath of God, who, the inhabitants believe, has sent the drought to punish them.

Known as "The Great Sinner On Earth" are dragged through the streets, with "mourners" accompanying them, beating their breasts. This ceremony represents the death of great sinners, and, the world being small, the sinner is usually a Hindu who will be sent to Dharapuram, where acute distress prevails because of the lack of even drinking water, a crowd of Moslems march bare-footed and bare-headed in the black mud-day and night, their little white wicks and prayers for rain were offered.

That night, for the first time in eight months, rain fell Dharapuram.

Source Of Instinct

Interesting Experiment Conducted By American Scientists

A hypothesis of "hen instinct" extracted from a hen's head, sets roosters to clucking.

This is brief the amazing story of an announcement by the American Association for the Advancement of Science of the first discovery ever made of the real nature and source of an instinct.

This particular instinct, "broodiness" or the wish to cluck and sit on eggs, turns out to be a very powerful instinct, according to Dr. George D. Fink, a compound of recent discovery and valued at $10,000 a quart—and suffer no temporary or permanent ill effects.

Challenge To United States Schools To Reduce Death Toll

A sharp challenge to United States high and preparatory schools to reduce their football death toll was issued yesterday by Floyd H. Eastwood of New York's Educational Institute in the results of a four-year survey of football fatalities.

Fatal injuries in college, athletic club and sandlot games are decreasing, Eastwood told the American Football Coaches Association. In contrast, the undramatic number of high and preparatory school fatalities form an increasing percentage of the total. The percentage was 56.5 this year against 36.3 in 1931.

Return To Native Land

One Hundred And Fifty Native Chinese Sail From R.C.

One hundred and fifty Chinese, destitute and unable to find employment, have started the journey back to China at the expense of the British Columbia government. Hon. G. S. Lyleson, minister of labor, announced.

Mr. Pearson said the Chinese went voluntarily because they felt they would be better off in their native land where they can earn a living independently of the government. The government will also change the arrangement by eliminating future costs for their support.

All the Orientals were from British Columbia and there is no bar against their returning when they are financially able to do so.

King Died Happy

The story goes that King George IV, lay dying as the results of the Goodwood races went bright to him in 1834. He was in an agonized position. He lay stupored at intervals between Goodwood and Windsor Castle to carry him the results of the races. One of his three entrants, Fleur-de-Lis, won the race and the king died happy.

Success Seems Assured

Medical Authorities Believe Anti-Paralysis Vaccine Is Ready

Five years ago, in a Montreal laboratory, Dr. Maurice Brody set himself on the trail of the germ responsible for afflicting untold millions of infants.

Some medical authorities accept the anti-paralysis vaccine as a now proven guardian against the disease which destroys the spinal motor cord of the muscles, thus causing lameness.

"Final proof" says the young scientist, "will be found in studies in epidemic areas."

Only then can be determined if the immunity gained in vaccination is permanent.

The young Canadian bacteriologist is reported before the Pittsburgh convention of the American Association for the advancement of science on his work in the Ohio experiment station, carries plenty of mineral matter for him until they are ten weeks old.

Those tests are in accord with results obtained at other stations, and the vaccine is considered as quite reliable.

Most sera, of course, are very rich in calcium, carrying from 20 to 25 per cent of that element, which normally makes up three-quarters of the mineral in the body.

Dr. Brody's vaccine contains about 10 per cent of phosphorus and calcium in a very digestible form.

When one substitutes part vegetable protein for meat scraps in the mash, it is highly desirable to feed additional minerals as the vegetable protein does not contain as much mineral matter as the animal protein.

Villagers Are Excited

Spanish Town Residents Are Nervous

The two towns of the town of Hospitalet, Spain, a Barcelona suburb, have signed a complaint before the local judge accusing one of their neighbors of being a witch.

They said she had predicted misfortunes to neighbors and later caused them to leave.

They said she had placed a curse on a neighbor's house, which promptly died.

Another complaint was that a woman had placed a curse on a house the husband and wife had just bought.

BIG BERTHAS SOON WILL BE BOOMING

The forthcoming session of the federal parliament will see portentous happenings if the fireside radio talks of the premier are any indication of what we may expect.

The government is likely to launch upon a radical program, one which will tax the people's hearts with the multitude and not with the fewer and wealthier individuals.

In fact the Conservative party's program may be so advanced that little will be left to supply material for the platforms of the other two parties.

The Liberal leader has indicated his line of campaign. He promises a lower tariff program with the encouragement of imports as a step to encourage exports. Free trade is Canada's greatest need, Mr. King says.

From present indications an earlier election than previously expected is indicated, possibly it may be held in April.

Mr. Bennett is firing the first general broadside now, but before long Big Berthas will be booming on every side.

A COMPARISON IN GOVERNMENTAL COSTS

Many people have gotten the idea that Canada is very expensively governed. But a comparison with other government shows that the Dominion is not so extravagant as some think.

This current government year will show expenditures in Canada of around 358 million dollars. That sum indicates the deficit on the Canadian National Railways, which approximates $50 million, the debt service of around $100 million, the veterans' requirements of around $40 million, as well as the usual run of expenditures.

The City of New York has just budgeted for an expenditure of $45 million for 1936, or 10 per cent of the total of the federal government of Canada spends. The New York administration has only the affairs of that giant municipality to administer. The Canadian government has to conduct the affairs of a country larger than the entire United States and burdened with a war debt of some two billion dollars.

Japan, with 80 million people, gets by on a comparatively small sum. Her budget calls for the expenditure of $635 million during the forthcoming year. This is only $87 million more than New York city, and Japan is gearing up her war machine for a prospective conflict.

CAN IT BE DONE?

Is it possible for the settlers of the eastern irrigation block to operate the project successfully? What are the prospective drawbacks of co-operative operation? These are questions that must arise deep thought in the minds of all the settlers. If they cannot operate the system efficiently and economically it would be a serious mistake to take it over at any price. If they can and will, they have the land bargain of a generation.

The one big reason why a group of farmers find difficulty in working together is the lack of training in doing so. The spur of dire necessity is usually the incentive that drives farmers into working groups.

In their farm labors the farmers generally work independently. In that they are different from most people engaged in other occupations. But farmers can work together when they put their minds to the job. Denmark is the outstanding working group in course.

After the Danish war with Germany, the little North Sea nation lost some of its most valuable land possessions. Discouraged and defeated, with the national debt enormously increased, with prestige at a minimum, the Danes bravely set out to develop their own big resource—their farms. So industry and intelligent organization had to take the place of natural advantages. Working together the Danish farmers accomplished seesaw sales of production and marketing.

The farm settlers in the eastern irrigation block, if they have the mind to do so, can accomplish the same. The intelligence, initiative, energy and general ability of the settlers are on par with any group of farmers in the world. They merely have to learn to work together in a determined fashion.

The taking over of the ownership of this project means the assumption of a great responsibility. Difficulties and discouragement will arise. Unforeseen dilemmas will occur. But nothing can overcome a stern determination to succeed. The settlers will have to learn methods employed successfully by big business, and to learn to self-discipline. They will have to draw a line and hold to it. The change in ownership will not mean easy riches, easy success and a new heaven upon earth. But it will provide an opportunity for success through hard work and persistence.

"Honors and successes that are won, plucked from green boughs, soon wither." Those that last are gathered patiently in the sultry noontide of labor, in the sweat of endeavor, in the incessant seeking and finding of right and just policies. These are true lessons drawn from the experience of living. No superior people can win out in the hard struggle of everyday existence.

JUST ANY DAY

By Edna Jaques

Oh, keep me cheerful, Lord, so when I meet
Old neighbors here along this quiet street,
I shall not sadden them with tales of care.

Or add one measure to the load they bear.

Oh, keep me cheerful, Lord, and full of zest,
Glad for the morning... glad for night and rest,
When in the evening I can bravely lift

My heart to thee in praise for life's good gift.

Let me not speak of any sorid thing
(Gossip is also one of the 'sister's sing),
There is so much of good to tell and spread,
So many lovely words that might be said.

Let me have something nice that I can say
That they may carry in their hearts today,
Along the road a sweeter message find
And face tomorrow with an easier mind.

A friend who lives nearby, gave us the following practical illustration of the diminished spending power of the farmer. In 1929, a load of wheat weighing 102 bushels, not only brought him a receipt for his life insurance premium, but left him six dollars.

This year, he sent the proceeds of 104 bushels of wheat, less 200 lbs.

hogs, thirty dressed turkeys, and 200 lbs.

to buy four olars from his boy before the insurance company wrote "paid" on the notice.

In a recent communication addressed to the editor, Mr. Bert Huffman, known as the author of the "Mail," revealed many startling truths concerning the mental condition of many of our people, brought about, as Mr. Huffman says, by the lamentable conditions folk are compelled to labor under.

Now, let us turn for a little while to the men of the world, to our young men; the information being derived from the Relief Commission's report to the press on Dec. 28.

On that date 560 men were on the list in the City of Calgary. Of that number 300 were judged physically fit for work, the remainder being invalids or semi-invalids. Yeah, that's some awful figure, you say. Well, if a fellow has good health and plenty of coin to shoot, but how different when he's sick and depending on the cold hand of charity to support his meagre wants. There's worse than what General Sherman said about war.

For the last three or four months Canadian periodicals of both east and west have published many articles on the cause and effect of the long spell of drought, which has cast its grim shadow across the western plains.

Rather strange to say, nearly all the people seem to opine that disaster came about from the shiftless method, employed by the prairie farmers. But the asserter only reminds us of the ancient adage,

"where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to wise." A few years ago, when the world was in a general fit of gloom, when bankers, brokers and salt way magnates were forever praising the resource, courage and initiative of the western farmer. But now that we are on the rocks, adversity, birds of every feather, who don't know the difference between a polecat and a grampus, buy them wings at a Weil tell 'em go to it.

Let them forget that long before man sunk his breaker bottom into the tough prairie sod, it was a semi-arid region where sun and wind ever mocked at the feeble growth of vegetation.

It was the farmer man, with little help from anybody, who made the wilderness blossom before.

And with "Hope" led him on, the same stout hearted lad will go forth to his sowing in the springtime, requiring only the blessing of rain to confound his critics and justify his own faith.

Now all you thrivers and Scotties put aside the shillelaghs and bagpipes and gather round with your ears wiggling.

Sandy and Pat were engaged in a race to see who could get to the top of their respective races when greatly annoyed, the keeper of the lower race appeared and commanded the pair to follow him to his abode. Once there, he lifted up the lid of a great cauldron where a bunch of guys were sizzling merrily. "Hoo, man!" cried Sandy, "I'm not fit to eat that stuff for a son of a gun." McNamee, McKenna and McPhersons?

Relating at this direct evidence of Scotch inferiority, Paddy again started to hand Scotch the raspberry, when he was firmly led away to a room where he was to be interrogated.

"But my dear son, how treat them so much nicer than the Scotch?" Pat swooned at the reply.

"Oh, these fellows are always so green when they come here that I have to dry them a lot before they're brown good."

Never go around with a married woman unless you can go two rounds with her husband—Eddie Cantor.

CURLERS

CLASSIFIED

To the uninitiated, curling looks like rather a silly game, but to the expert, looking at the various rinks in action, for the first time, during a bonspiel week with its continual hurry and scurry, it is rather a puzzle to a sightseer. These greenhorn try to understand the explanations as to the scoring, but usually this is a little deep for them; so to show some essence of offtime, we give the following:

What is the lead dot? Is he the head man?

What do the second and third dot? Who is the skip, and what is he here for? Here, therefore, is a list of the duties of the respective members of a curling club.

The lead dot is a very lowly person, who throws the first pot of the game. He is supposed to thank the Deity once a day in his prayer, for being permitted to exist, let alone being allowed to curl. All curlers have served this period of apprenticeship, and it is a remarkable fact that 90 per cent of them have never served a curling club.

He always addresses the skip as "Aun" and the third man as "Me." The lead is supposed to see that the four pairs of rocks belonging to his club are on the ice and clean five minutes before the game starts. He must do no less than 70 per cent of the work in getting the rink ready to keep the skip well supplied with cigarettes and to purchase at least one bottle of Scotch essence per item. This is to be consumed by the rest of the skip's team on that day. He is not even over the house line, except when he is awoken by the skip's command to "Get up, skip, we're about to start."

He must be perfect in his skip's service, for he is blamed for the loss of the game in which his skip fails. He must also have the private opinion of the skip, but he is to tell the second man his private opinion of the skip, but no one else. After many years he becomes a skip, if he can't be perfect or he is blamed for the loss of the game in which his skip fails. ## Patients Like Doctor To Show Personal Interest In Them

When he exhorted the medical students to remember that patients are human beings, Dr. John Ross Bradford earned the layman's gratitude.

In these days of intense specialization and deep complexity of medical science, it is sometimes forgotten that the old human relation has vanished and the sufferer becomes only a case.

The excessive function of the old human relation is shown by the few people nowadays, but we would all have our doctor scientifically impersonal. London Daily Telegraph.

Old Fort Montgomery

Belongs To United States Once Called "Fort Blunder"

The fortification known as "Fort Blunder" was started in 1816 at Rouses Point, N.Y., under the supervision of a United States engineer. The plan of the fort was octagonal, and it was intended to occupy about three-fourths of an acre. The walls were to be about 20 feet high. It was believed that the fort would be of great strategic value, but in 1818 it was found that the fort was useless, and it was never used and was abandoned. It was known for many years as Fort Blunder. Its correct name is Fort Montgomery. By the Webster treaty of 1842 the fort was ceded to the United States.

Super-Giant Stars Detected By Red Photographic Plates

Detection of a clan of 20 super-giant stars by use of infra-red photographic plates "red heat" was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The discovery indicates that the heavens are probably inhabited by large numbers of duly glowing gigantic suns whose size and energy are many times that of our sun.

All 20 stars have been known many years, but their ordinary, visible light gave no indication of unusual size. All are "long-period variables," stars whose visible light waxes and wanes over periods of several months.

War Film Designed To Bring Canadians The Lesson Of The Futility Of War

While the government cannot be said to have "Gone Hollywood," it is nevertheless true that cabinet ministers would like to prove the public that they tried out various titles for the film shortly to be produced under government sanction. Finally an inspiration struck the cabinet, and "Lest We Forget" was born and approved.

A recent meeting of the provincial council behind the unusual spectacle of the nation's administration of justice was held during their period when they tried out various titles for the film shortly to be produced under government sanction. Finally an inspiration struck the cabinet, and "Lest We Forget" was born and approved.

As far as "Lest We Forget" it is the name of the picture compiled from many thousands of feet of film taken overseas during the war, and trimmed into a connected and coherent story. The Canadian effort is designed to bring home to the Canadian public the stupidity and fruitlessness of war. The picture is being prepared and will have its premiere early in the new year under the auspices of the Canadian Legion.

The production is of feature length, dividing the war into three definite periods.

In all sequences the cost of war is vividly illustrated.

Investigates Sound Waves

Finds New Principles On How Sound Waves Function

Discovery of new principles of how sound waves act in water is being made from making speakers better housed in tanks to improved understanding of chemical compounds, especially of the sulfur compounds.

The $1,000 prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The winner was Prof. Oliver Knobelen, chairman of the department of physics of the University of California at Los Angeles. His paper was entitled "The Absorption of Sound in Gases."

The prize is awarded annually by the American Association for the Advancement of Science on the program of its annual meeting, and is usually given to a comparatively young scientist rather than a man who always has attained eminence. Prof. Knobelen is 41. He is married and has three children.

Prof. Knobelen has found that oxygen in the air plays the most important part in the dying away of some sounds because it absorbs sound waves. Oxygen also usually transmits sound better than dry air. For each different pitch or frequency of sound there is a different degree of humidity or moistness of the air which the sound waves most rapidly.

It's particularly effective as the original in bright red and navy blue, the charming little twin-pleated skirt this figurine is wearing.

Note how prettily the skirt flares out to the side and down the center-front. The shrug-style blouse is softly gathered to a shoulder yoke and has a wide belt.

The cummerbund with band rolled hem for preference slips so jauntily over the waist.

It's "conditioned" for best possible hearing conditions, it was explained, for Prof. Knobelen has found a way to calculate the "acoustic transparency" or rate at which sound will die away in air, at any temperature or degree of humidity.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE ON FRIDAY, JANUARY 18th

An interesting debate on the proposed "Prohibition" will take place in the Masonic Community Hall on Friday evening, January 18, at 8:30 p.m., with Fred Thompson and Ben Plumer, Bassano high school boys, opposing a team from the Brooks high school.

The students have been working on this topic for six months, and have prepared concise, effective speeches. The topic allows them much scope in choosing their material, and under the expert guidance of L. Whitehorn, principal, they have grasped the important points in the scheme.

VOTING ON IRRIGATION PROGRAM PROGRESS

Already approximately four hundred votes in favor of the proposed irrigation project have been received. Mail has come in from all over the country, and the experience of the canvassers is that about 65 per cent of the votes have been recorded as in favor of the plan.

The work of Mr. Tait White, Wm. Sheldene, and Carl Anderson is given as the reason for the success of the poll.

SOCIAL CREDIT MEETING HELD

A Social Credit meeting was held in Bassano January 8th, at which a study group was organized and officers elected.

The meeting was well attended and the main topic for voting for taking a straw vote on Social Credit in the Bassano District during this month was discussed.

The next meeting of this group will be held Thursday, January 17, at the home of Mr. George Morrison. Everybody welcome.
